

Georgia and Florida Routes For Dixie Highway Proposed Amid Cheers and Applause

Representatives of Five Other States Will Present Claims to Fourteen Commissioners Today, and Decision Will Be Made on Saturday.

Contest Between Rome and Dalton Routes One of the Warmest of the Day—Six Different Routes Proposed Between Macon and Jacksonville.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 20.—Delegations from cities and sections within the states of Florida and Georgia are contesting for locations on the proposed Dixie highway from Chicago to Miami, Fla., late this afternoon completed presentation of arguments before the fourteen commissioners from the seven interested states, who opened their meeting here today to select the route for the highway. Representatives of the five other states were to be heard tomorrow, and the designation of the route is to be made Saturday.

The proceedings today were marked by a display of enthusiasm seldom witnessed outside of big political conventions. In the assembly hall impen-sioned speeches, extolling the advantages of this or that proposed route were delivered before the commission and uproars of cheers and applause followed the streets there were parades of men and women in automobiles and on foot, led by bands and carrying banners and shouting their praise of their favored section of roadway.

In the hotels which were the headquarters of the visiting delegations, there was an almost constant din of cheering and impromptu contests of choruses rendering songs composed for the occasion.

Georgia and Florida Delegates.
Representatives of two competing routes in Florida—the central and the eastcoast—were heard from, while arguments were presented by representatives from three sections of Georgia, comprising cities in the sections between Chattanooga and Atlanta, Atlanta and Macon, and Macon and Jacksonville, Fla., no less than six different routes being proposed for the last mentioned stretch of road.

One of the warmest contests before the meeting today was that between advocates of the Chattanooga-Lafayette-route and the Jacksonville-Macon-route. Each faction was represented by a delegation of men and women, and the highway between Jacksonville and Macon was described as a government highway, and that their county would guarantee to maintain and improve the highway according to the commission's specifications.

Martin and B. A. Taylor declared the Dalton route is the shortest and the most direct, and that it is of even grade, passes through the scenic of several battles of the civil war, including the battle of Dalton, and the battle of the Clouds.

Advocates of the Jacksonville-Macon route were J. D. Lovett, Nashville, Ga., for the Fitzgerald-route; Lloyd C. Kitchener, Jacksonville, for the Jacksonville-Macon route; and Atlanta-Griffin line, and S. T. Russell for the Atlanta-Jacksonville route.
Representatives from Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee held their late today to present their claims for their routes before the commission tomorrow. A vigorous fight is being fought between Louisville, Ky., and Cincinnati for location on the line from Chattanooga to Chicago. Representatives from Louisville, Indianapolis and Nashville held a meeting to plan their campaign for the Louisville-Mammoth Cave route, and a large delegation from Cincinnati met with "road boosters" from Lexington, Ky., and from eastern Tennessee to plan their fight for the Cincinnati-Bloomington route.

Among the entertainment features tonight was an automobile parade and band.

Hearing for Michigan.
The commission is expected to hear a hearing to two representatives appointed by the governor of Michigan, who have asked that the highway be extended north of Chicago to the Straits of Mackinac, and also to have Virginia represented by a delegation to the highway route from Chattanooga to Knoxville-Bristol (Va.)-Roanoke.

Former Governor W. S. Jennings of Florida, urged adoption of the eastcoast route from Miami to Jacksonville thence west to Tallahassee and north through the Georgia cities of Albany, Macon and Albany to Macon. Ed Scott of Arcadia, and L. P. Dickey, of Tampa, were the arguments for the central Florida route via Live Oak.
Representatives of the numerous counties between various points in Georgia, speaking of the state as a grade, hard road and a half hour. J. H. Merrill, of Thomasville, presented the claims of Macon-Albany-Tallahassee.
Representatives of the Jacksonville-Macon route, and S. T. Russell, of Jacksonville, declared the counties had guaranteed the highway should be a grade, hard road and maintained in good condition.

At the opening session, which was presided over by Clark Howell, chairman of the commission, the

COFFEE FORGES $1,000,000 BONDS FOR CITY SCHOOLS

Council Will Be Asked on Monday to Approve Total Issue of $3,150,000 for Needed Improvements.

$1,000,000 IS ASKED
FOR WORK ON SEWERS

Committee Will Recommend $750,000 for Waterworks Department and $100,000 for New Cyclo-rama.

One million dollars for Atlanta's public schools was the minimum agreed on Thursday by the bond committee of council, to be incorporated in a proposed city bond issue the general council will be asked to authorize. The committee, which met at the call of Chairman Albert Thomson, considered reports from several sub-committees relative to the needs of the various city departments.

The committee will recommend to general council Monday a bond issue aggregating $3,150,000. Last year, when discussion was had of issuing bonds for city improvements, it was proposed to issue bonds aggregating $4,250,000. The bond committee's report to general council will incorporate the following recommendations:

Improvements Asked.
Grading and new buildings and equipment, $200,000.

Waterworks, to complete Atlanta's trunk sewer system and provide for extensions in the disposal plants, $1,000,000.

For cyclorama building at Grant park, $100,000.

Site department, for motorizing the department and extending fire protection to the city limits, $750,000.

Alfred Owens and Seawright may recommend to council adding another item to the issue to provide for the erection of two sub-stations for the police department.

Councilman J. J. McCord sought to have $100,000 included in the issue as the city's portion of the expense of building an underpass on Pryor street, underneath the Southern railway, and underneath the railroad tracks to the city limits.

Will Appeal to Council.
The committee voted adversely on the recommendation of Councilman McCord. He declared he would take the matter to the general council. He claims it would mean a direct route to the general council.

Lakeview, the location of the proposed southeastern fair, and would make the fair grounds one mile closer to the business district of the city. The success of the fair, he said, depends on the extent on a direct route. The country board is included in the bond issue from the railroad tracks to the city limits.

The committee was a unit in the belief that the schools should be the first to be considered. The committee unanimously indorsed the recommendation of Councilman Charles W. Smith and James H. Smith, who made the case for public schools.

Councilman J. J. McCord, who submitted the report of the sub-committee, recommended the erection of two new girls high schools. Lloyd C. Kitchener, who opposed the plan, said he would not approve the girls being forced to go long distances to a central school. The bond committee indorsed the recommendation.

Consolidate Boys' Schools.
The committee also recommended the consolidation of the boys' high school and the consolidation of the boys' high school.

A Hat For Everyone

If milady cannot make a satisfactory selection from the hats now being shown in the millinery shops about town, she may be in for a long time before she can find one that will be hers and not the builders of hats.

There is the large, "floppy" hat of the garden species; the small, winged and quilled hat for suit and street wear; the large, wide-brimmed hat of the military design; the mu-nimized ribboned and ruffled hat that suggests the old Charlotte Corday style. There is the brilliant flowered hat that breathes of spring, and the severe-cut peace feather hat for more dressy wear.

In a word, it is a season when the hat is the keynote variety of choice.

TRIAL OF T. S. KERLIN RESULTS IN DISCOVERY THAT PROBABLY A SCORE OF MEN HAVE INDORSED NOTES FOR FRIENDS DESPITE REGULATIONS.

OFFICERS AND FIREMEN
HAD BORROWED $2,100

Rules of Department Say That Any Fireman Who Indorses Note Automatically
Forfeits His Position in the Department.

As a result of the probe last night by the board of fire masters into charges preferred against T. S. Kerlin, motor driver at headquarters station, a score of officers of the department, including assistant chiefs, captains and lieutenants, may lose their positions.
Kerlin and W. A. Baginski, signal operator at headquarters, were dismissed from the department on charges of conduct unbecoming members of the department.

When the board last night conducted its investigation, based on the charges last week of Baginski, at the instance of Kerlin, who said he found him in his home with his wife at the Kerlin residence, 55 South Mohrland street, it developed that Kerlin was operating a private loan business among the firemen officers and that over a score of dollars was due him from the men.

In his statement before the board he accounted for $2,100 due him from nearly a score of the firemen, including First Assistant Chief R. E. Presley, Captain O. J. Parker and G. R. Carroll, secretary to Chief Cummings.

Owed Him Big Sum.
Kerlin stated that these men and others had borrowed money from him on indorsements by other firemen and that one of them owed him as much as $500. Kerlin said he had received more than $400 and another stated he owed Kerlin $147.

The board heard the secretary prepare the minutes of a meeting of the board held in May of last year, when a resolution was passed, providing any fireman who indorses a note automatically forfeits his position in the department. It was testified by Kerlin that many of these indorsements were given when he was in the department.

At the request of the board Kerlin agreed to furnish them a list of the men against whom he holds notes and the names of the men who indorsed them.

These revelations were made to the board when Kerlin took the stand in his own defense. He stated that nearly a score of the men who indorsed against him owed him money and charged that some of them (the mentioned by Kerlin) had been in the department for years and were active part in securing his dismissal from the department. Kerlin said that it would be an aid in relieving them from any moral responsibility.

This testimony was admitted by the board to determine whether or not any of the men who indorsed were prejudiced against Kerlin.

Charged 5 Per Cent.
Kerlin said he had borrowed the firemen 5 per cent per month interest, in answer to a question of what agreements were made when loans were requested.

"You know you are violating the law," asked Mayor Woodward.
"No, sir, I am not violating any law," Kerlin said. "I am only asking for the money and offer to pay me 5 per cent."

Chief Cummings was put on the carpet by members of the board and asked if he knew anything about Kerlin. He knew nothing of his extensive loan business, he said. He said his first information of the practice was when Kerlin himself made the statement that he had been in possession of the facts in his home.

Testimony before the board last night showed that Kerlin had been in possession of a list of the names of the men who had been in his home and a squad of police to his home, found him in a kimono and Baginski hidden in a closet. They were taken to the police barracks, where they paid their fines for disorderly conduct and Kerlin filed a petition for divorce, which is now pending.

Charges Are Preferred.
He reported the matter to the chief, and it was turned over to the board of firemasters. Baginski was dismissed, and charges were preferred against Kerlin by Councilman Jesse B. Lee. It was charged that Kerlin married a woman he had caused to be removed from good character, and the board members last night declared they would not allow such a thing to take place in the department with their knowledge. They were in a position to indorse a reflection on every member of the department to allow Kerlin to remain in the department.

A former fireman by the name of Jacob, who was a member of the department, testified that he had heard reports concerning Mrs. Kerlin before her marriage. To Kerlin which led to the dismissal of the fireman. A former fireman by the name of Jacob, who was a member of the department, testified that he had heard reports concerning Mrs. Kerlin before her marriage. To Kerlin which led to the dismissal of the fireman. A former fireman by the name of Jacob, who was a member of the department, testified that he had heard reports concerning Mrs. Kerlin before her marriage. To Kerlin which led to the dismissal of the fireman.

Warned by Officers.
Kerlin admitted that officers of the department had warned him before his marriage and warned him, telling him that if he married a woman who was not a fireman's wife, he would be dismissed. He said he had heard of the dismissal of the fireman before his marriage. He said he had heard of the dismissal of the fireman before his mar-
missal of the fireman before his marriage.

Attorney John W. Moore, who appeared for Kerlin, said he would consider the case.

England Denies Arbitrary Interference With U. S. Trade; Will Cotton Cargoes Bought By One Seller at Any Price

Pay for Cotton Awaits Only Proof of Ownership and Papers Showing Actual Contract Price.

London, May 20.—In an effort to correct what the government believes to be a misunderstanding of Great Britain's attitude toward American ships and American cargoes in other neutral ports, the foreign office has issued an explanatory memorandum.

This explanation is supplemented by a statement that cotton cargoes which the government agreed to purchase under the cotton agreement have all been bought by the government, and that actual details concerning the payment only await proof of ownership and papers showing the actual contract price. It is explained that at most of these papers must come from the United States they will still be unavailable delays before the government can make payment.

The memorandum of the foreign office follows:
"First. There are at the present moment three American ships detained in this country. Two of them are cotton ships which are dealt with below.
The third is the steamer Joseph W.
Fordney. This vessel, with a cargo of foodstuffs consigned to R. Klingner, at Malmo, Sweden, was brought into the port of Malmo, though there was no evidence of its being a cotton ship.
It was detained on April 8. She had been sighted by the navy's ships about 10 miles from the Norwegian coast, and had thereupon endeavored, with the evident desire to evade search, to escape rapidly into Norwegian territorial waters, but without success.

"On the vessel's arrival in Kirkwall inquiries were at once addressed to his majesty's minister at Stockholm with regard to the consignee of the cargo, and a reply was received to the effect that no person of that name could be identified at Malmo, though there was a person of that name who resided at Gothenburg and was manager of the Gothenburg branch office of Hugo Haas and who had stated that the consignment was in the hands of Joseph W.
Fordney. Fordney was intended for storage in Malmo.

"Second. The suspicious conduct of the vessel in endeavoring to evade his majesty's minister at Stockholm in regard to the consignee of her cargo which has come to the knowledge of the government, and the fact that the cargoes were in reality destined for Germany, have caused the government to suspend the vessel's cargo, and the cargoes must be paid for by the government. The terms of the arrangement are as follows:
"All cotton for which contracts of

Case of War Is Passed thusiasm by Vote of 407

FORMAL DECLARATION OF WAR IS EXPECTED NOW AT ANY MOMENT

"We Have Confidence in Our August Chief, Who Is Preparing to Lead the Army to Glorious Future," Cries Salandra.

Rome, May 20.—(Via Paris, May 21, 4 a. m.)—All members of the cabinet maintain absolute silence regarding what step will follow the action of the chamber of deputies today in conferring upon the government full powers to make war.

Former ministers and other men prominent in public affairs declare, however, that the action of parliament virtually was a declaration of war.

FORCES OF ITALY MAY HAVE ACTED.

London, May 20.—Any lingering hope that Italy would maintain her neutrality was abandoned tonight when the Italian chamber conferred on the government extraordinary powers in the event of war's outbreak.

The German and Austrian ministers were still in Rome tonight, but according to Berlin dispatches their one care now is to arrange for the safety of their nationals remaining in Italy.

A formal declaration of war, or perhaps action without a formal declaration, is expected momentarily. At any rate, all preparations for naval and military action have been made on both sides and it is possible that while the Italian premier, Signor Salandra, was explaining to the cabinet and the world the policy of his government, the troops on the frontier and the navy in the Adriatic had anticipated diplomatic action.

WAR BILL ADOPTED BY ITALIAN CHAMBER.

Rome, May 20.—(Via Paris, May 21, 4 a. m.)—The chamber of deputies has adopted the bill conferring full powers on the government. The vote was 407 against 74.
One member abstained from voting.
The bill passed amid tremendous enthusiasm.

Premier Salandra introduced a bill which would confer on the government extraordinary powers in case of war.
The bill was passed by a vote of 407 against 74.

All the galleries of the chamber of deputies were crowded at 1 o'clock, some time before parliament reassembled.
There were 450 deputies in their seats. Only one incident marked the opening of the session; that was when Salandra's assistants entered the gallery. All the deputies stood up and cried: "Viva Salandra!"

Signor Marone, president of the chamber, took the place of the speaker. The members of the house and every one in the galleries stood up and cheered the former follower of Garibaldi. Then Premier Salandra, followed by all the members of the cabinet, entered. A delirium of cries broke out. "Viva Salandra!" were the words, and the cheering lasted for five minutes and a half.

Then the formalities of the opening moved. Premier Salandra arose and said: "I have the honor to present to you a bill to meet the eventual expenditure of a national war. It is a bill to meet the needs of the nation in the event of a war. It is a bill to meet the needs of the nation in the event of a war. It is a bill to meet the needs of the nation in the event of a war.

Supper-Dance at "Glenwood" Beautiful Social Event

A supper-dance given last night by Mrs. and Mrs. Morris Brandon, at their hospitable home on Pace's Ferry road, assembled a bright company of eighty guests, mostly among the young people and the young married set. Miss Eunice Jackson, of Nashville, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Maddox, was guest of honor.

An elegant buffet supper was served at 8 o'clock, the guests seated on Mr. and Mrs. Brandon's table, which was decorated with flowers and hanging baskets. Electric lights shone through Japanese lanterns, and the lanterns burned the drive and were strung among the trees.

The living room and dining room made continuous space for dancing, and at one end of the dining room punch gin will read an equally delightful short play by Anatole France, "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," which has had great success in the production of Gravitte Barker.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Anna Woodall will preside.

Has Georgia a state board of control for her state institutions?

How must city ordinances compare with state laws?

What oath does every official take?

What is gambling according to law?

What are a woman's dower rights in Georgia?

Addresses will be made by Miss Rosa Locke, Mrs. W. McLaughlin and others.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone interested.

The Argentine club now has fifty active members, which is the maximum number now allowed, and the membership has been growing for an indefinite period, and the club financially is on a substantial basis.

The following members in good standing are eligible to attend, and Mr. George B. Whitney, of Augusta.

Certified Holstein Milk

It is now obtained by leading physicians and many intelligent persons that the healthful properties of Holstein milk, raised as it is by a large, strong and vigorous race of cattle, possessing great vitality, and of a make-up so like that of human milk, constitute it the ideal human food for infants, invalids and young persons, and especially for those whose diet is largely composed of milk. Holstein milk is easily digested and assimilated by the most delicate stomachs.
